

Innovative Cases

Our Customer. Philips

Their Customer: PHILIPS

Brief

Philips is a household name that provides technology worldwide across many applications from inhouse entertainment to lifestyle products. We have worked with Philips on several occasions providing a casing solution that would help bring their new innovations to market.

From Sales Case to High End Packaging

Philips have used our cases for numerous projects from High End Packaging to new product launches. This particular project was for the semi-conductor division to launch a newly developed product to their existing customer base to help increase sales.
