Brief

Cylon Global Solutions, a global company with a global vision, are striving to continually develop and market a complete range of security systems and solutions, using the "Cylon Headcam".

Camera Presentation Case

The Cylon Headcam is the result of months of intense, detailed trials by the Devon and Cornwall police, among others. The first model represents the template from which the Home Office specification was formed. The Case Company supported this unique product by supplying a smart plastic case with foam insert branded inside and out.

As you'll see in the picture the foam insert was also laser marked with the Cylon logo for full impact when opened.
